DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Tesco Farm is located on the west side of Chestnut Ridge Rd. approximately 1 mile northeast of its junction with New Germany Road. The site consists of a dwelling and a barn, both situated close to the road.

The house is a frame, two story, gable-roofed building. Its basic configuration is a T-plan that consists of a three bay by two bay main block with a two bay by one bay rear wing. The main block rests on a concrete block pier foundation while a full basement and continuous concrete block foundation have been provided for the rear wing. The facade has a symmetrical three bay, center door arrangement, however, the first floor eastern bay has had a paired set of sash installed. A hip-roofed porch supported by four square columns extends across the full length of the facade, and a similar porch shelters the southwest side of the wing. The porch on the northeast side of the wing has been enclosed. All windows are one over one sash with plain board surrounds. Also, the northwest and southwest gables are each pierced by a small rectangular window. A layer of brick-patterned asphalt siding covers the building's German siding. The roof is covered with asphalt shingles.

The barn is located just southwest of the house. Its frame is circular sawn, mortise and tenoned, and covered with vertical board siding. A metal silo and a hollow brick milkhouse are associated with the structure.
